WORKING FOR A TRAIN

Electric Line to Be Given the Cold Shoulder

BY LABOR DAY COMMITTEE

Agent Hill in Pittsburgh Today—Program of the Events Intended to Amuse the Visitors at Columbian Park on Sept. 2, Arranging the Details.

The general committee of the Labor Day celebration are on their mettle.

They could get no offer of a rebate from the electric line people, although they guaranteed that thousands of people would patronize the cars. So they put their heads together and today will tell whether they are successful.

A conference with Agent Adam Hill, of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad, resulted in an agreement on the part of Mr. Hill to secure if possible a train in case a crowd was guaranteed. The committee felt no fear that there would be a scarcity of people, and decided that they wanted a train at the local depot immediately after the parade to take the people to East End and another in the evening to bring them back.

The round trip rate is to be as cheap as passage on the electric line, 10 cents, and the only advantage will be of course in not being compelled to wait. Agent Hill felt confident that the company would send a big train but found it necessary to confer with the officials at Pittsburgh, so he went to the Smoky city at noon today. The matter of transportation is a big one, and if the electric people lose the work they will lose hundreds of dollars.

At the meeting of Trades council last night the committees arranging for Labor day made a report, and what they told the members was enough to prove the merit of the program.

To the present time there have been 34 prizes offered, each one being an article of value, and the athletic part of the day promises to be all right. There will be a horse race, one three mile bicycle, one half mile bicycle, one mile bicycle for boys under 17 years of age, one half mile bicycle race for ladies, 150 yard foot race, tug of war between the potters and glass workers, a prize walk, and several contests yet to be decided. All the potteries and business houses are asked to close during the day, and an invitation is given the owners to join in the celebration. The only other action of importance taken by the council was the request that all bottles purchased be examined for the union stamp before taken by union men. The manufacturers of union glass are brought into competition with the non-union factories so much that the association think trade in union factories will be better if the stamp is on the bottle.

A PRINTER'S REPLY.

He Tells Some Things About the Lisbon Trip.

The following communication sets forth the sentiments of a union printer in regard to the articles published in a local paper last night:

In reply to the brainless effusion of one of the "leading" (?) members of the union—a leader perhaps in the bibulous end, the Crisis, where rum, ruin and rottenness run rampant—I will state that the whole article in question is a series of prevarications. In the first place the NEWS REVIEW is not opposed to unions and has the opportunity at one time to wipe 318 out of existence had they so desired. The rate of wages paid by the NEWS REVIEW is over and above the present scale. The employees are all working under union laws, and only those holding cards are allowed to hold situations. We have no whitewashed rats, nor members of organizations antagonistic to the Typographical union working here. As to the bicycle end of the slush, I don't understand. I happen to be the owner of a wheel, but it was paid for in cash upon delivery, and a canvass among the employees develops that the NEWS REVIEW had no part in the purchase of any of their wheels. Strict attention to work, and a boycott on the saloons, would soon enable the Crisis printers to indulge in the luxury also. As to "truck" trading, our printers must be dealing with the Crisis. Oh, by the way, how about E. Ed Kline, a former reporter-printer-solicitor and general utility man, who worked at the Crisis office (without a card) after the strike was settled to liquidate numerous orders given by that sheet? The NEWS REVIEW has repeatedly published the names of the union officers, both newspaper and job, and only asks for a share of union work, but they do object to work being sent out of the city to relatives, whose rating as union employers is bad—very bad. Taken as a whole, the slush is a continuous display of ignorance and prevarications. As to Haney's article (ye gods, what irony) space does not permit a lengthy reply and I will say that, no matter what is said to the contrary, I, as well as all the wide-awake printers, believe the sending of a committee to Lisbon was at the dictation of Deidrick, and Grand International President Haney had to do his bidding. Funny, too, Haney being a Republican. Now, to close, as time is too valuable to waste on small matters, the NEWS REVIEW rendered all the assistance in its power to the striking printers, and allowed their type and material to be handled by more than one "blacksmith" from the alley. I could give to the public columns of rottenness if I so desired, but respecting my obligation, I must refrain. "Forbearance sometimes ceases to be a virtue." This is significant.

UNION PRINTER.

A BIG MEET.

How the Crack Riders Rode and Collided on Fifth Street Last Night.

Three fair ladies who dare to brave the dangers of cycling were learning to ride on Fifth street last night. The discussion of their individual skill resulted as usual—in a race. But this contest was no ordinary affair.

"Now I'll tell you what we'll do," said one fair maiden. "We'll race for a gold watch. Just let on you know. I'll be Bott and you'll be York" nodding to the second amateur wheelwoman. "Well I'll be the unknown said the third." So it was arranged.

The start was made at Market street and the trio sped toward the Methodist Episcopal church. Their shadows had almost caught up to them when they dashed across Jackson street in front of the church. Then a terrible thing happened. A man on a wheel hove in sight. He was right in front of Bott. They both turned their wheels the same way and there was a crash and three feminine screams rent the atmosphere. Bott was in the wreck and York, who was close behind, could not get out of the way. York's wheel went over Bott and with more screams York fell on her side. The unknown with a "Ha! Ha!" of triumph sped on into the dark and misty night and won the race.

Bott was not injured seriously. She had the best of the argument, and tearfully apologized to her victim as he secured a rake and gathered in the fragments of his front fork and wheel. Two young ladies wear court plaster and liniment today, and walk with a limp, but they do not care to discuss affairs pertaining to wheels.

AMONG THE CHINESE.

Liverpool Missionaries in the Troubled Districts.

Charles Swan, brother of J. L. Swan, of this city, is at present 250 miles from Canton, in the interior of China, where the fanatical pigtailed heathen are butchering Christian missionaries. Mr. Swan is learning the language and no fears are felt for his safety as he is at present in a peaceful district preparing for residence in the midst of the troubles. Dr. John M. Swan, another brother, returned from China some time ago, and is now in Chautauqua. He has made all preparations to go back, having secured tickets and shipped his effects. He is connected with a hospital only a short distance from where the last massacre occurred. The specialty of these Chinese mobs seems a wild desire to murder American and English women.

A DOUBLE WEDDING.

Squire Rose United Two Couples at a Hotel.

East Liverpool is apparently an attractive spot for Cupid's victims and they frequently come here to be tied up. Yesterday however they came in pairs and last night when Squire Rose responded to a call to the Thompson House he was met by four young people who were looking for the nuptial ties.

They were Newton Miller and William Butzler, of Allegheny, and the young ladies were sisters, Misses Margaret and Catharine Cook, of Washington township. They were married at 5 o'clock and left for their honeymoon trips a short time afterward.

NOT RECOGNIZED.

Liverpool Was Represented, but Did Not Get a Place.

The state council, Daughters of America, adjourned yesterday afternoon after a good meeting in Massillon. Liverpool was well represented, but did not get a state office. Springfield was chosen as the next place of meeting, and the reports showed that 2,000 members had been added during the year.

MORE RATE CUTTING

The Phoenix Telephone Company Wants to Come.

THEIR PRICES ARE LOW

The Plan is to Bring the Line Here From Steubenville, and Connect Intermediate Towns—They are Foes of the Bell Monopoly and Want Business.

A special from Toronto tells this little story:

"The city council passed an ordinance granting a franchise to the Phoenix Telephone company, of Steubenville, to erect and maintain lines in this city. This company will embrace Steubenville, Toronto, Wellsville and Liverpool, north, Mingo and Brilliant, south, and Richmond and Wintersville west. The rates are to be $15 for private houses and $35 for business houses. The Bell company rates are $50 for business houses and $35 for private residences. There promises to be some lively cutting in prices before long."

The company referred to above have enjoyed more or less distinction in the country chiefly because of the manner in which the Bell company have met the new rates. They have been taking stock for a long time in Steubenville, and when last heard from some money was yet to be subscribed. The chief objection to the company was the fact that it would be purely local, and its customers would have no service beyond the town. If there is any truth in the Toronto story that defect will in a measure be remedied, and the company will have a better opportunity to gather trade. Liverpool seems well pleased with the Bell system in every respect excepting prices, and if the Phoenix comes in with a desire to cut rates, and the present incumbent meets the new figure, Liverpool is selfish enough to welcome the change. If not the Phoenix will have little to do here.

If the new company is so ambitious as to think of an extension to Lisbon, Salem, Salineville and other towns in the county it will help its case in this city. A Pittsburgh connection would also be a necessity, since Liverpool does a great deal of telephone business with that town.

A GAME TUESDAY.

The Shamrocks-Y. M. C. A. Contest—Other Sporting Notes.

The Shamrocks and Young Men's Christian association teams will battle on the West End ground on Tuesday next in the second game of their series.

Both teams are preparing for the game and a contest royal is expected. It was intended to play on Monday but for good reasons the change was made. Lynch and Finch will be the battery in all probability for the Shamrocks, and Albright and Albright for the Young Men's Christian association.

The Tombstones and the clerks are playing ball this afternoon. The Standard pottery club feel able to whip any pottery club in town and here by challenge the lot. They prefer the team of Knowles new end.

George Hale expects to hear from Trappe today, and possibly the wheelman will be here by tomorrow.

The wheelmen entered for the road race Saturday are nearly all training hard and those who expect to see good time made will hardly be disappointed.

WITHOUT A PARALLEL

Is the Low Stage of Water in the Ohio River.

It has been almost four months since there was a shipment of coal, and a vast amount of the product taken from the hills of Western Pennsylvania is awaiting to be taken south. According to the latest and best information obtainable, there is little coal loaded below Louisville, and the supply between Natchez and New Orleans is much lower than it has been in years. Looking over past records, one is confronted with the fact that there has not been a year that a rise did not show up in either May, June, July or August, and should the present month pass by without giving the rivermen one, it will go down in river history as a year without a parallel.

JOKED THE OFFICER.

He Answered an Anonymous Postal and Was Fooled.

A member of the police force had an experience the other evening which may teach him that anonymous letter writers are not always the best. In answer to a postal telling him to meet the writer at the loop in the East End where he was promised an interesting story he began to see visions of gold and glory as the reward of vigilance, and he went. For reasons not made known he was accompanied by a friend who waited in a secret place for the interview. How long the officer stayed there no one knows, but there was no interview, and the officer returned to his beat with the knowledge that some people are not above playing with even a policeman.

A BOLD DEED.

How an Artist Was Saved From Death or Injury.

John I. Hodson and Percy Frost are receiving the congratulations of their friends today because of the part they played in a little incident on a street car last night. They were standing on the rear platform when Mr. Frost, in attempting to light a cigar, lost his balance as the car lurched to one side, and his friend jumped to his rescue. In that brief instant visions of a mangled corpse filled the imagination of the spectators, but their fears were soon put to rest. The good right arm of the daring man of medicine clutched the artist in a masterly grasp, and he was dragged back to safety and the platform.

NOBLE WAS IN COURT.

He Took the Disputed Horse Out of the State.

Squire Morley had a case yesterday evening that ended disastrously for the complainant.

Constable Lyon had arrested Noble Withrow on a charge of taking a horse, on which Grant McKinnon had foreclosed a mortgage, out of the state with fraudulent intent.

Squire Morley investigated carefully the facts in the case and dismissed it at the plaintiff's cost. He decided there was nothing against Withrow, as he had obeyed the order of the court to return it. The horse in question is to be sold at auction on Monday afternoon next by Constable Lyon.

IT GOT AWAY.

Officer Whan Lost the Dog He Would Have Killed.

Officer Whan, who was detailed to kill the dog owned by Jack McDonald because it had snapped at a boy, appeared on Fifth street last night leading the animal by a cord to the place of execution. The animal was a small harmless looking canine, and the officer a picture of strength in his natty uniform, and many a smile was thrown toward the pair as they walked along the street. The contrast was telling on the officer when the dog slipped its head from the noose and ran away while the officer wondered why the world seemed so suddenly to have lost its beauty.

THE HORSE DROPPED.

It Was Weary and Wanted to Rest a Little.

When an expressman was driving through the Diamond yesterday evening his horse suddenly manifested a desire for rest, and without any notification other than a toss of its head, quietly laid down. A small crowd quickly gathered, the general belief being death on the part of the animal. It was found to be breathing, however, and the united efforts of several strong men placed the animal on its feet. The horse was apparently unhurt, but some people wondered if it was not a case for the Humane society.

RAISING THE WIRES.

No More Difficulty With the Shade Trees.

The light company today have a force of men at work preparing poles for the elevation of certain wires in the city. The wires were originally placed so low as to pass through shade trees, and it has been determined to settle the matter for all time to come by placing them high in the air. The improvement, while not of vast importance to the general public, will be appreciated by the people who have trees in front of their residences.

A PITIABLE CASE.

A Family of Eight Cared For By the Trustees.

The attention of the poor authorities was last night called to one of the most deserving cases in the history of the present board. A man with a large family, six children, was taken ill some time ago, and gradually what little money he had was consumed. When it was all gone there was nothing left but an appeal for public charity, and this was not done until they were so badly off that they had nothing to eat.

WILL DRILL TONIGHT.

Company E will meet for drill in the rink tonight, and Captain Supplee will be on hand. Every member should be present in order that the company be in good shape for the encampment.

SURVEY DID NOT SUIT

So the Electric Line Was Gone Over Again.

SECOND REPORT DUE SATURDAY

When Liverpool People Will Know the Fate of the Scheme Which Has Created So Much Talk—The Pennsylvania Company Fighting.

The survey of the route for the proposed electric line to Lisbon does not suit, and another has been made of a portion of the line. Saturday will probably decide the fate of the scheme.

That much and very little more was learned by a NEWS REVIEW reporter this morning from Attorney A. R. Mackall, one of the projectors of the road. Mr. Mackall expected to know all about the engineer's report on Monday last, but was out of the city and could not be seen until today. The report was complete and showed many things which will not be given to the public at present. There was a part of the proposed route satisfactory and the engineer was instructed to remedy it if possible, and report on Saturday next. Mr. Mackall will go to Pittsburgh today to confer with the other capitalists interested.

The Pennsylvania company is proving a formidable antagonist, and will give the syndicate a hard fight when they make a move.

BADLY HURT.

George McNicol Met With an Accident This Afternoon.

George McNicol, an aged resident whose home is in the alley between Jefferson and Monroe of Fifth street, was badly hurt at the Union Planing mill this afternoon.

He is a saggarmaker and was carrying a maul up a flight of steps when he slipped and rolled to the bottom. He was badly cut about the head and the patrol took him home.

A STOLEN WHEEL.

C. P. Seanoor's Bicycle Located in the Smoky City.

Last night's Chronicle Telegraph says:

"A bicycle belonging to C. P. Seanoor, of East Liverpool, O., was found yesterday at a store on Wood street, where the owner went in search of it in company with a detective. Seanoor claims that the bicycle was stolen from his father's house in Washington, Pa. The detective is now looking for a relative who is visiting at the house in Washington, and whose description corresponds with that of the man who disposed of the bicycle."

A COINCIDENCE.

The Man Who Planted a Tree Hauled It Away.

The tree which caused the Huston-Welsh controversy the other day was planted by the man who hauled it away. Long years ago he placed the tree in the ground, and remarked to the people interested enough to see the tree taken away, that he was responsible for its being born and now he was about to officiate at its funeral. Another thing of interest was that he had been a drinking man before that time, but never took a drink after the day the tree was planted.

A SALOON CLOSED.

G. W. Meredith Shuts Up Nick Eck's Place of Business.

Constable Lyons yesterday closed the saloon of Nick Eck, a German on Market street.

It was the foreclosure of a mortgage held by G. W. Meredith and the constable will sell on August 17.

Eck's place of business was in the old opera house building.

Judge Johnson Decides to Run.

YOUNGSTOWN, Aug. 8. — Judge Joseph R. Johnson decided yesterday, after a conference with personal and political friends, to enter the race for the nomination of circuit judge at the Republican judicial convention to be held here on Aug. 27. Judge Johnson is filling his second term as common pleas judge, and will have the solid delegation from this county in the convention.

Esterline's Goods Sold.

The sale of the Esterline goods taken by Ferd Ochman was followed Tuesday and yesterday by sales of the effects in the Exchange hotel.

Mr. Kauffman, of Wellsville, a son-in-law of Esterline, bought in some of the goods taken from the car and G. W. Meredith secured the goods on which he had a chattel mortgage.

Local organizations of different orders participated in the annual parade, and while there were many faltering steps in the ranks, it was an imposing spectacle. Governor Morrill of Kansas and General E. H. Halson of Kentucky were the speakers of the day. Governor Morrill said that while the government had been generous in some particulars, in many others it had been niggardly and dishonest in dealing with the old soldiers. Hon. W. B.

Richie, supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, on behalf of his order welcomed the veterans and extended them greetings. The Knights of Pythias, he said, contained 40,000 citizen soldiers trained in the regular army drill and ready to respond to their country's needs. Greeting were extended through the supreme to the Pythians encamped at Sandusky. Visits were received from the W. R. C.

of good cheer.

A Passenger Robbed by Tramps.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 8.—M. L. Mooney, ager of the Michigan Life Insurance company, has been held up by five tramps at Upper Sandusky, being the sole occupant of a chair car on the Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo railroad, the other occupants being at supper. The amount taken is not known.

Shot Himself on His Wife's Grave.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—Mr. A. E. W.

Kelly, a commission merchant, went to Lakeview cemetery and lying down on his wife's grave, shot himself through the heart, dying almost instantly. Mrs.

Kelly died about a month ago, and the husband has been despondent ever since. This fact, coupled with some business trouble, is supposed to have led the suicide.

A New Ohio Road Incorporated.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—The Wheeling and Cleveland Railroad company of Cleveland has been incorporated. The company proposes to build a road with its southern terminus at Martin's Ferry, in Belmont county, and its northern terminus in Cleveland, and passing the intermediate counties of Jefferson, Harrison, Carroll, Stark,

Summit and Portage.

county, grand larceny, three years;

ford, Cuyahoga, three years, robbery.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

George Cronley attempted to commit suicide by drowning himself in the river at Gallipolis, but was pulled out unconscious and rolled on a barrel until resuscitated. He had been drinking excessively.

Dr. Rutter, superintendent of the Epileptic hospital at Gallipolis, has returned from Europe, where he has been making a study of the methods of treating epilepsy which are in vogue there. He was accompanied by his wife.

Mrs. Albert Vollrath died suddenly in Bucyrus. Her husband is in Europe.

With the exception of a few light showers, there has been no rain in Adams county since the middle of May.

Several members of the Golden Rod club of Bucyrus contemplate joining the National Whist League. The club has a number of very skillful amateur players who beat every game they played last winter, defeating a number of teams from surrounding cities.

Over 600 Methodist Sunday school teachers and scholars from Cincinnati, Batavia,

Williamsburg and Mt. Greb enjoyed an excursion to Jay Bird Station, near the famous Serpent mound, in the eastern part of Adams county.

Grand Master B. S. Bryfus, Shawnee, assisted by other grand officers, instituted a new I. O. F. lodge, No. 819, at Atlanta.

George Chambers, the colored cook on

Springfield, charged with attempting to assault Ollie Kahn, a white girl who was a passenger on the boat.

foot at the ankle by his assistant allow-

MISSIONS ATTACKED.

Another Chinese Insult Against England and America.

THE VEGETARIANS 12,000 STRONG.

They Are Well Armed and Organized and Able to Withstand the Chinese Troops. An American Missionary Describes the Massacre—Killed Number Nine.

HONGKONG, Aug. 8.—The British and American missions at Fat Shan, near Canton, have been attacked by a large and infuriated mob. The hospitals were demolished. The missionaries fled to Sha Men, other remained. A Chinese gunboat has been dispatched to quell the riot.

It is reported that all the missions at Kwang Lung will soon be destroyed and the missionaries driven to the treaty ports. The vegetarians are 12,000 strong and well armed and organized and able to withstand the Chinese troops.

A Foo-Chow special says: Dr. Gregory, an American missionary, who escaped from Ku-Cheng, gives the following account of the massacre there: "At 12:30 p. m., on Thursday, Aug. 1, a native Christian rushed into my study, saying that several of the foreign ladies at Hwasang, a mountain resort about 12 miles from the city of Ku-Cheng, had been killed that morning, and that two houses had been burned. Fifteen minutes later a note from Mr. Phillips confirmed this.

"He wrote that five ladies were dead, the Stewards were missing and four persons were seriously wounded. He expressed the hope that I was then on my way to Hwasang. I immediately went to the Yamen, where hundreds of excited natives had already gathered, and requested the district magistrate, Wong, to send some soldiers at once to Hwasang to protect those still living. In half an hour the magistrate went to Hwasang under an escort of about 60 soldiers. I was delayed in leaving Ku-Cheng, owing to the fact that the coolies refused to carry chairs. On my arrival I set to work to make the injured as comfortable as possible.

"At 4 p. m. I left Ku-Chung city under an escort of 13 soldiers, arriving at Hwasang at 8 p. m., to find that nine adults, all British subjects, had been murdered, and that all those still alive at Hwasang—eight only—had been more or less severely wounded."

Dr. Gregory then described the wounds received with medical precision, giving names, etc., just as published in these dispatches. He said, however, that there had been no post mortem mutilation, as had previously been stated. The secret society known as Vegetarians did the rioting.

THEY LIKE THE COLUMBIA.

The French Government Orders Two Duplicates of Our Famous Fast Cruiser.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—News has just reached the navy department that the French government has shown its appreciation of the fine capabilities of the fleet cruiser Columbia, by ordering the immediate construction of two vessels as nearly a duplicate of the famous American flyer as they can be made in the absence of our exact plans.

They are to be known as "croiseurs corsaires," or pirate cruisers, and notwithstanding the criticisms that have been passed upon the Columbia because of her light battery, these French cruisers will have still smaller caliber guns, the largest being but 6.5 inches, as against 8-inch guns for the Columbia.

Emperor William the Guest.

COWES, Aug. 8.—Emperor William was the guest of honor at a dinner of the Royal Yacht Squadron at which the Prince of Wales presided. Among those present were Prince Henry of Russia, the Duke of York, the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, the Marquis of Ormonde, Lord Dufferin, Lord Dunraven and Lord Lonsdale.

Three Hundred Men Go Out.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 8.—Three hundred miners at Coalbin, Brookside and Brazil struck, because of a refusal of the Sloss Iron and Steel company to grant them a check weightman and to reinstate miners' committeemen who had been appointed to present grievances and had been discharged. The strike may spread.

Railroad Directors Elected.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—At the annual meeting of the Cleveland and Mahoning Valley railway stockholders, Stevenson Burke, Charles C. Hickox and C. L. Murry were elected directors for three years. The directors subsequently elected Stevenson Burke president, E. R. Perkins treasurer and E. D. Poppleton secretary.

Troops to Be Sent to Abyssinia.

ROME, Aug. 8.—Il Corriere says that a conference has been held and that it has been decided to send an expedition of 20,000 men to Abyssinia in October.

HAD TO RESIST HER TEARS.

A Sweetheart Pleads With a Judge For Her Intended Husband's Release.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Judge Van Wyck, in the city court, was asked for an order releasing Charles Johnson from Raymond Street jail, where he has been confined several weeks for contempt of court, and this request was made by Johnson's sweetheart. Johnson is to marry a Miss Colson, Saturday next. Fearful that the ceremony would have to be postponed, the young woman pleaded with tears in her eyes to Judge Van Wyck for her sweetheart's release. She said she had saved $40 and if the judge would accept it in part payment, she would pay the balance as soon as their means would permit.

Judge Van Wyck said he sympathized with the young woman, but would reserve decision for the purpose of inquiry into the matter.

Rear Admiral Ammen Ill.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Rear Admiral Daniel Ammen, retired, while on a visit to the navy department, was prostrated by an attack of vertigo, superinduced by the excessive heat. The attack is believed to be serious, in view of the advanced age of the admiral.

NEGROES BUYING GUNS

Want to Avenge Their Brethren at Spring Valley, Ills.

BRIEF TRUCE AT THAT POINT.

Miners Passed Resolutions For Equal Rights to All When Altgeld's Representative Is There—Trouble Likely If Negroes Try to Work.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—The police have received information which leads them to believe that the colored men of this city have perfected an organization, and are arming with the intention of attacking the Italian miners at Spring Valley. The information came from a number of pawnbrokers, who stated that they had been approached during the day by colored men who were anxious to purchase Winchester rifles. In several instances purchases were made, but as a general thing the pawnbrokers did not have enough of the rifles to make a deal with the colored men. One of the would-be purchasers said when asked what he wanted to do with a number of rifles, "Oh, we will show the dagoes what we want with them."

A Spring Valley special says: State troops, for the present at least, will not be ordered to this turbulent town. Peace has been declared. This was brought about through the efforts of Colonel Hugh E. Bayle, assistant adjutant general, sent here by Governor Altgeld.

Colonel Bayle was informed by Sheriff Clark, Superintendent Dalzell and other citizens, miners and public officers, that no one had as yet been killed. All admitted, however, that 100 citizens, all colored, had been driven from their homes by a mob of Italians, Poles, Bavarians and Hungarian miners. Many shots were fired and some of the colored miners were wounded and brutally beaten. These negroes, men, women and children, had been assailed and ruthlessly driven from their homes and forced to go to Seatonville. As to this outrage, all were agreed; but that anyone had been killed, or fatally wounded, both coal company officials and the miners all denied. Colonel Bayle was then informed that miners were to hold a mass meeting on the public square. At this meeting resolutions were adopted, declaring for equal rights to all regardless of color.

When the meeting adjourned, those who had been instrumental in calling it met at the Spring Valley hotel with Colonel Bayle, the county officials and representatives of the coal company. Most of the questions were proposed by James O'Connor, president of the State Miners' union. It was during this questioning it developed that Manager Dalzell would willingly take back all miners who had not work, save those who had committed crimes. Dalzell explained that a man who had been driven from the mine were anxious to come back. They had sent word to this effect.

"I replied," he continued, "that if they wanted to come back they could do so. Under the resolutions was that not right?"

"It was," said O'Connor, "only you must not hold us all responsible if some of them should be stabbed in the back."

Notwithstanding the miners' resolutions it is generally believed that if the negroes return to work there will be trouble.

Stebenville has a street sweeper that the Gazette wants sold to Liverpool. Perhaps they bought a cheap sweeper down there, or didn't know how to use it after they got it.

Wellsville has an unusually large number of able bodied men applying for help from the poor authorities these days, and the town is at a loss to know what to do with them.

Two dogs were shot in the East End yesterday. One had bitten a man and the other was acting in a suspicious manner. The poor canine, friendless and homeless, has a hard time of it these days.

Trustee Joseph Beardmore was 64 years old yesterday, and as he walked about the street, with face beaming and head erect, his friends who knew nothing about the event wondered at his gay and youthful appearance.

The three East End churches and two Sunday schools from neighboring towns are picnicking at Columbian park today. The park is crowded, and many persons from the city proper are aiding their friends in properly celebrating the occasion.

The Goodwin club will have an opportunity to show that it can hold the laurels it won on Thursday, the old end boys challenging them for a game. This time each club will put up $25, and the contest promises to be one of beauty and fun.

The trolley wire was down at Riley's orchard this morning and on the Walker's hill, but with that expert ability for which they are rapidly becoming noted, the repair crew used Nancy Hanks and a little wire to have the line in working order in short time.

"This sweeper controversy can end right here," said a well known business man to a reporter. "If the sweeper is not what we want council can ship it away, and get another. If it does the work it is worth the money. In heaven's name don't let us have warfare now. It's too hot."

Officer Whan ran against a circumstance yesterday that caused him no end of trouble. He was interested in the fight near the brewery, and sought to do some detective work, but the people who knew anything about it refused to give information and he was compelled to return to city hall without the evidence he so earnestly sought.

Proprietor Stewart at the Hotel Grand has been so often victimized by unscrupulous guests with notes and drafts which needed endorsement, that he has ceased to oblige them, and in order that he will not be called upon to refuse them has posted a pretty sign in the office, where it can be seen, announcing the death of the practice as far as he is concerned.

Arthur Seevers, a cooper employed by the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company, was boxing in a playful manner with one of his friends when he slipped and fell, his arm striking the sharp edge of an adz with sufficient force to make a nasty wound. An artery was missed by little more than a hair's breadth, and the wound was so dangerous that a physician was called to dress it.

That agonizing stillness so well known at city hall these warm summer days pervaded every nook and corner of the rickety old building today. People gazed in wonder as they passed, and a stranger would have thought it the deserted mansion of some great king or potentate, or yet, perhaps, the tomb of an honored resident, so quiet was the place, and yet so magnificent in its mighty proportions.

A Wellsville man, who neglected to leave his name at city hall, was here yesterday looking for the wife of his home who went out to buy groceries the other day, but neglected to return. He said a Liverpool man living in the rickety old Ainsley building on Washington street had enticed her from home and he wanted the man as well as the woman. A search of the place was made, but the bad man with a handsome face could not be found.

The private picnic at Columbian park last evening was an enjoyable occasion, 35 couples of society people spending a few hours delightfully at the pleasant resort. It was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Keplinger, of New Philadelphia, who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas; the Misses Shriver, Allegheny, guests at the residence of Harry Kaffer; and Miss Brown, who is being entertained by Mrs. Bolton on Jackson street. Dancing was the amusement, and the merry crowd were brought to the city at midnight by a special car on the street railway. The arrangements were perfect and the outing a complete success.

AT CAMP GREENLAND

A Day Among the Pennsylvania National Guard.

HOW THE TENTH ENTERTAINS

And Finds Time to Win Praise on the Field—The Governor's Review—Scenes
and Sounds Among the Rank and File.
Fakirs Who Are Making Fortunes and
Some Who Make Mistakes—The Spot
Where 3,000 Soldiers Dwell.

CAMP W. W. GREENLAND,
GLENCAIRN, PA., Aug. 6.

This beautiful spot on the Allegheny Valley railroad is a second white city. Acres are covered with the pure white canvas of the tents of the National Guard of Pennsylvania.
Here the bugle call awakens the thousands of soldiers from their slumbers each morning and the place that was a few moments before quiet swarms with the boys in blue. Then the colors are placed in position in front of the tents of the colonels commanding six regiments of soldiers, and another day of the encampment is begun.

Your correspondent arrived in Glencairn at 10:30 last night, and through the courtesy of officers aboard the train was directed to the quarters of Captain Harry Palmer, the color sergeant of the Tenth regiment. After resorting to every known means of arousing the captain from his slumbers, and while considering the idea of having the battery fire a shot from one of their cannon, the agonizing tones of "Sweet Marie" came from a tent several military squares distant.
It awakened even the sleepers under the rails of the side track, and the captain arose and greeted his visitor with as much cordiality as though he had been a delinquent subscriber come to pay his bill. After a foraging expedition enough bedding was secured from the unconscious soldiers to make a comfortable couch, and it was 6 o'clock the next morning before your correspondent saw much of camp life
as the Pennsylvania guard have it.
On our way to breakfast we met Colonel Hawkins, of the Tenth, who had just come from the tonsorial tent, and despite his protest against having strangers made his acquaintance while he was in negligee attire, I had a pleasant chat with the commander.
After breakfast in the regimental mess tent, a meal which showed that the guardsmen know how to live and
are putting that knowledge to good use, the companies detailed for guard mount went on duty. Field drill followed, but was cut short by a downpour of rain, and the soldiers made for shelter at a speed somewhere between the regular double quick and a streak of greased lightning. The shower was soon over, but drill was not resumed, and until noon the visitor to camp had plenty of time to spend a fortune among the fakirs, testing his strength of muscle, or of "windage," hearing the phonograph, learning his weight, securing tin types of himself or mother-in-law, pitching rings at deceptive canes or throwing base balls at
the darkey's wooden covered skull.
These and many more devices formed a veritable midway, and the only nickel that passed them by was of the counterfeit variety.

Just what sort of grudge the owners of these stands had against Governor Hastings could not be learned, but they had located about his tent and he who wanted to see the governor had to run the gauntlet. After dinner promiscuous drilling occupied the time until 4 o'clock when there was an unusual stir in camp and the shining
of buckles and buttons was evidence that it was not mere drill booked to disturb the soldiers. The bustle was for the great event of the day, the review of the entire brigade. Those who never before witnessed such an affair looked on in open mouthed wonder, while those better acquainted with military life enjoyed the scene with an enjoyment arising only from a pride in the men who protect the nation, and the perception that they were drilling as soldiers who love their work should drill. As they marched to the field it became apparent that there were a few guardsmen on the ground. In fact there were between 3,000 and 4,000 there, being the 48 companies of the six regiments of the Second brigade and Battery B and the Sheridan troop, cavalry. Once the regiments had taken their respective positions Governor Hastings and Brigadier General Wylie dashed across the field, the governor's splendid build and superb horsemanship making him
the admired of the hundreds of spectators. None the less admired was Adjutant Wylie as he kept close by the governor's side and his trained eye observed his men with satisfaction. The cavalrymen rode by and the spectators generally remarked that they looked pretty. The crowd was principally on the left and had no idea of what was coming. Suddenly the command "by the left flank, march!" was heard and the Sheridan men wheeled their horses and pressed the crowd back on the hill. As the regiments passed the crowd the Tenth

came first by reason of Colonel Hawkins being the oldest in the service,
and as this regiment passed Governor Hastings and General Wylie the governor gave a nod of approval and a few complimentary words which would have made the boys feel like cheering had they heard them. The Tenth was generally conceded the best appearing on the field.

A base ball game was one of the features of the afternoon and to insure perfect order or perhaps because he was better prepared in case of accident (?) the chaplain of the Tenth was chosen umpire. Incidentally he scored and assumed the management of both sides. It was merely a practice game among the boys who were preparing to annihilate the team from the Eighteenth.

Just how the rainmaker got into camp, and why he imagined himself a picket with the "two hours on and four off" is a mystery, but he performed his duty from morning till night without a break.

During the dry seasons I had a chance to see the Pennsylvania private as he is in camp and found him a very jovial fellow. As I passed one tent I heard a blue coat sing out to a comrade in a neighboring tent
"Ho, Bill. Do you see any flies on us?
We 'swiped' two blankets and two pillows and three candles last night.
Were raw recruits but were learnin'
—don't you think?" Bill evidently did think for he smiled and requested that the learners let him know whenever they wanted to take the second lesson as he desired to stock up.

Across the track a Hebrew gentleman had endeavored to raise prices on his wares. He was surrounded by a small army in five minutes and a guard with bayonets fixed escorted him out of camp. Such is the daily occurrence here. Pitching quilts, playing ball, foot racing, bathing and having teeth pulled are the favorite amusements of the soldiers during leisure hours.

Dress parade was the last military exercise I saw in camp before leaving for home, and it was immediately followed by rain. At supper I met Colonel Streator, the unjustly censured officer who was connected with the case of Private Iams. Colonel Streator is a man of pleasing address, popular among the regiment, and although feeling quite ill, he talked earnestly of military work. He has a deep regard for the soldiers of the Tenth, who would defend the gallant Colonel Hawkins with their lives if it ever became necessary, and is highly pleased with the success of this encampment. Many other officers I was pleased to meet during the day and found them just what they are reputed—soldiers who take pride in making a stranger feel at home. More hospitable people than Colonel Hawkins and the officers of the Tenth would be hard to find. One day in camp makes the visitor long for a month of it and no one ever regrets
the time spent there.

Before closing I must remember
"Uncle Jeff" whose skill is mainly responsible for the strength used in writing this letter. For 10 years he has been chief cook for the Tenth regiment, and he furnishes the best cooked rations in the brigade. The sick soldier is never wanting for delicacies when "Uncle Jeff" hears of him, and he produces, as if by magic, some dish that seldom fails to coax the latent appetite. His able assistants are nimble and obliging. Unfortunately I could not learn "Uncle Jeff's" last name as in the half score years of his efficient service the boys have grown so accustomed to using the title I have applied that they have forgotten the other half.

Maclaren's Wonderful Cricket.

Wonderful batting was recently performed in England by the Lancashire eleven and young A. C. Maclaren, their crack batsman. Playing against Somersetshire at Taunton, they amassed the enormous total of 891, and Maclaren contributed from his own bat a score of 424. His innings beat the previous best of W. G.
Grace, 344, for a first class match, and the Lancashire total easily surpassed the record for a county match obtained by Nottingham against Sussex this year, when they scored 726.

Dr. Grace is the champion cricket player

nis experts of Great Britain and America, champion of the United States at fells and broadwords.

CHESS KINGS IN CONGRESS.

Steinitz, Pillsbury and Albin America's Representatives at Hastings.

The greatest chess tournament in the history of the sport is now in progress at Hastings, England, under the auspices of the Hastings and St. Leonards Chess clubs.
All the greatest players living are present,
and 25 of them are battling for supremacy
in the royal game. So great was the interest in the tournament that 38 European and American chess masters sent in their entries, but the committee was obliged to limit the number to 22. The United States, Canada, England, France, Italy, Austria,
Germany and Russia are all represented by their best players.

The big four of the tournament are Emanuel Lasker, the champion of the world, representing England; ex-Champion William Steinitz, representing America; Dr.
Siebert Tarrasch, the German champion,
and Tschigorin, the champion of Russia.
Besides Steinitz the American competitors

WILLIAM STEINITZ. ADOLF ALBIN.
HARRY N. PILLSBURY.

are Pillsbury of Boston and Albin of New York. Canada is represented by Pollock,
England by Bird, Blackburne, Burn, Guns-
berg, Lasker, Mason, Teichmann and Tinsley; France by Janowski, Italy by Vergani, Austria by Marco and Schlechter, Germany by Bardeleben, Mieses, Tarrasch and Walbrodt, and Russia by Tschigorin and Schiffers. In the opinion of the New York Sun there are only three living men whose presence in the ring would have been desirable—namely, the Austrian, Weiss; the Pole, Winawer, and the German, Lipke.

The young Bostonian, Pillsbury, has never before met any of the European masters in serious match play, and it is principally to Steinitz that the public will look with more than usual curiosity. The veteran has never as yet crossed swords with Teich-
mann, Tinsley, Burn, Janowski, Vergani, Marco, Pollock, Schlechter, Bardeleben, Mieses, Tarrasch, Walbrodt and Schiffers.
He has played with neither Bird, Blackburne nor Mason since 1883, he has not met either Gunsberg or Tschigorin over the board for four or five years, while a meeting between the two claimants for the championship title, Lasker and Steinitz,
is alone worth the trouble of having arranged the tournament. Then there is Lasker, who will have to play against Tar-
rasch, Tschigorin, Schiffers and Walbrodt, not to speak of the lesser lights whom he has never before encountered in match playing.

It has been a matter of great surprise all over the world that Tarrasch succeeded in winning the last four European international tournaments. True, the contestants in these tournaments were not as strong as they will be at Hastings, but it was a miraculous performance, and there are many people who already look upon Tarrasch as the winner of the Hastings congress. However, there are Steinitz, Lasker and Tschigorin, three men the German champion Tarrasch did not meet at either Manchester, Breslau, Dresden or Leipzig.
These three men will probably fight for the honor of being first at the end of the tournament, in which case the finest talent in the world will battle over the board.

A FOUR-YEAR-OLD SCORCHER.

Bicyclist Lewis Benner, the Smallest Racing Cyclist on the Circuit.

Lewis D. B. Benner, aged 4 years, and John J. Benner, aged 6 years, the sons of
I. C. Benner of Philadelphia, are the youngest racers on the bicycle track in this country.

They go about to the big meetings on the national racing circuit and give exhibition races that always prove very popular with the spectators.

At the Asbury Park meeting they competed twice in races for a third of a mile, making the time 1:10. The younger

LEWIS D. BENNER.

rider had a 65 yard handicap and came over the tape about 15 feet in the lead. The 4-year-old's wheel weighs nine pounds, and the boy himself doesn't weigh over 30.
They have been riding only this summer,
and the speed they make is considered remarkably good. In the fullness of time it is believed they may develop into the Zimmermans, Johnsons or Sangers of the future.

A Charming Actress' Opportunity.

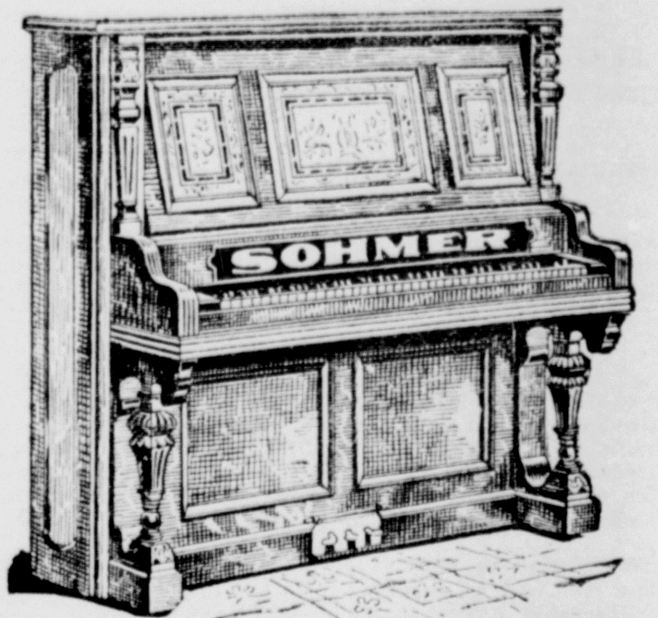

Ida Jeffreys-Goodfriend's versatility will be strongly tested in the various roles
which she will play next season in the company headed by Courtenay Thorpe. Besides
Mrs. Alving in "Ghosts," she will play a strong emotional role in "The Story of a Sin" and a charming light comedy part in "Reading a Tragedy." The last named play was written by Lord Dunsany and was played by her with marked success at a benefit performance some years ago, since which time it has not been presented on any stage.

The Bill Nye-Paul Potter Play.

"A Stag Party" is the name of the comedy which Paul Potter and Bill Nye are writing. Two acts of the play are already finished, and the authors expect to have put the last touches to their manuscript before Mr. Potter leaves for England, where he goes to superintend the production of "Trilby" by Beerholm Tree.

WORKING FOR A TRAIN

Electric Line to Be Given the Cold Shoulder

BY LABOR DAY COMMITTEE

Agent Hill in Pittsburgh Today—Program of the Events Intended to Amuse the Visitors at Columbian Park on Sept. 2. Arranging the Details.

The general committee of the Labor Day celebration are on their mettle.

They could get no offer of a rebate from the electric line people, although they guaranteed that thousands of people would patronize the cars. So they put their heads together and to-day will tell whether they are successful.

A conference with Agent Adam Hill, of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad, resulted in an agreement on the part of Mr. Hill to secure if possible a train in case a crowd was guaranteed. The committee felt no fear that there would be a scarcity of people, and decided that they wanted a train at the local depot immediately after the parade to take the people to East End and another in the evening to bring them back.

The round trip rate is to be as cheap as passage on the electric line, 10 cents, and the only advantage will be of course in not being compelled to wait. Agent Hill felt confident that the company would send a big train but found it necessary to confer with the officials at Pittsburgh, so he went to the Smoky city at noon today. The matter of transportation is a big one, and if the electric people lose the work they will lose hundreds of dollars.

At the meeting of Trades council last night the committees arranging for Labor day made a report, and what they told the members was enough to prove the merit of the program.

To the present time there have been 34 prizes offered, each one being an article of value, and the athletic part of the day promises to be all right. There will be a horse race, one three mile bicycle, one half mile bicycle, one mile bicycle for boys under 17 years of age, one half mile bicycle race for ladies, 150 yard foot race, tug of war between the potters and glass workers, a prize waltz, and several contests yet to be decided. All the potteries and business houses are asked to close during the day, and an invitation is given the owners to join in the celebration. The only other action of importance taken by the council was the request that all bottles purchased be examined for the union stamp before taken by union men. The manufacturers of union glass are brought into competition with the non-union factories so much that the association think trade in union factories will be better if the stamp is on the bottle.

A PRINTER'S REPLY.

He Tells Some Things About the Lisbon Trip.

In reply to the brainless effusion of one of the "leading (?) members of the union"—a leader perhaps in the bibulous end, the Crisis, where rum, ruin and rottenness run rampant—I will state that the whole article in question is a series of prevarications. In the first place the News Review is not opposed to unions and had the opportunity at one time to wipe 318 out of existence had they so desired. The rate of wages paid by the News Review is over and above the present scale. The employees are all working under union laws, and only those holding cards are allowed to hold situations. We have no whitewashed rats, nor members of organizations antagonistic to the Typographical union working here. As to the bicycle end of the slush, I don't understand. I happen to be the owner of a wheel, but it was paid for in cash upon delivery, and a canvass among the employees developed that the News Review had no part in the purchase of any of their wheels. Strict attention to work, and a boycott on the saloons, would soon enable the Crisis printers to indulge in the luxury also. As to "truck" trading, our printers must be dealing with the Crisis. Oh, by the way, how about E. Ed Kline, a former reporter-printer-solicitor and general utility man, who worked at the Crisis office (without a card) after the strike was settled to liquidate numerous orders given by that sheet? The News Review has repeatedly published the names of the union officers, both newspaper and job, and only asks for a share of union work, but they do object to work being sent out of the city to relatives, whose rating as union employers is bad—very bad. Taken as a whole, the slush is a continuous display of ignorance and prevarications. As to Haney's article (ye gods, what irony) space does not permit a lengthy reply and I will say that, no matter what is said to the contrary, I, as well as all the wide-awake printers, believe the sending of a committee to Lisbon was at the dictation of Deidrick, and Grand International President Haney had to do his bidding. Funny, too, Haney being a Republican. Now, to close, as time is too valuable to waste on small matters, the News Review rendered all the assistance in its power to the striking printers, and allowed their type and material to be handled by more than one "blacksmith" from the alley. I could give to the public columns of rottenness if I so desired, but respecting my obligation, I must refrain. "Forbearance sometimes ceases to be a virtue." This is significant.

UNION PRINTER.

A BIG MEET.

Three fair ladies who dare to brave the dangers of cycling were learning to ride on Fifth street last night. The discussion of their individual skill resulted as usual—in a race. But this contest was no ordinary affair.

"Now I'll tell you what we'll do," said one fair maiden. "We'll race for a gold watch. Just let on you know. I'll be Bott and you'll be York" nodding to the second amateur wheelwoman. "Well I'll be the unknown said the third." So it was arranged.

The start was made at Market street and the trio sped toward the Methodist Episcopal church. Their shadows had almost caught up to them when they dashed across Jackson street in front of the church. Then a terrible thing happened. A man on a wheel hove in sight. He was right in front of Bott. They both turned their wheels the same way and there was a crash and three feminine screams rent the atmosphere. Bott was in the wreck and York, who was close behind, could not get out of the way. York's wheel went over Bott and with more screams York fell on her side. The unknown with a "Ha! Ha!" of triumph sped on into the dark and misty night and won the race.

Bott was not injured seriously. She had the best of the argument, and tearfully apologized to her victim as he secured a rake and gathered in the fragments of his front fork and wheel.

Two young ladies wear court plaster and limment today, and walk with a limp, but they do not care to discuss affairs pertaining to wheels.

AMONG THE CHINESE.

Liverpool Missionaries in the Troubled Districts.

Charles Swan, brother of J. L. Swan, of this city, is at present 250 miles from Canton, in the interior of China, where the fanatical pigtailed heathen are butchering Christian missionaries. Mr. Swan is learning the language and no fears are felt for his safety as he is at present in a peaceful district preparing for residence in the midst of the troubles. Dr. John M. Swan, another brother, returned from China some time ago, and is now in Chautauqua. He has made all preparations to go back, having secured tickets and shipped his effects. He is connected with a hospital only a short distance from where the last massacre occurred. The specialty of these Chinese mobs seems a wild desire to murder American and English women.

A DOUBLE WEDDING.

East Liverpool is apparently an attractive spot for Cupid's victims and they frequently come here to be tied up. Yesterday however they came in pairs and last night when Squire Rose responded to a call to the Thompson House he was met by four young people who were longing for the nuptial ties.

They were Newton Miller and William Butzler, of Allegheny, and the young ladies were sisters, Misses Margaret and Catharine Cook, of Washington township. They were married at 5 o'clock and left for their honeymoon trips a short time afterward.

NOT RECOGNIZED.

Liverpool Was Represented, but Did Not Get a Place.

The state council, Daughters of America, adjourned yesterday afternoon after a good meeting in Massillon. Liverpool was well represented, but did not get a state office. Springfield was chosen as the next place of meeting, and the reports showed that 2,000 members had been added during the year.

MORE RATE CUTTING

The Phoenix Telephone Company Wants to Come.

THEIR PRICES ARE LOW

A special from Toronto tells this little story:

"The city council passed an ordinance granting a franchise to the Phoenix Telephone company, of Steubenville, to erect and maintain lines in this city. This company will embrace Steubenville, Toronto, Wells-ville and Liverpool, north, Mingo and Brilliant, south, and Richmond and Wintersville west. The rates are to be $15 for private houses and $35 for business houses. The Bell company rates are $50 for business houses and $35 for private residences. There promises to be some lively cutting in prices before long."

The company referred to above have enjoyed more or less distinction in the country chiefly because of the manner in which the Bell company have met the new rates. They have been taking stock for a long time in Steubenville, and when last heard from some money was yet to be subscribed. The chief objection to the company was the fact that it would be purely local, and its customers would have no service beyond the town. If there is any truth in the Toronto story that defect will in a measure be remedied, and the company will have a better opportunity to gather trade. Liverpool seems well pleased with the Bell system in every respect excepting prices, and if the Phoenix comes in with a desire to cut rates, and the present incumbent meets the new figure, Liverpool is selfish enough to welcome the change. If not the Phoenix will have little to do here.

If the new company is so ambitious as to think of an extension to Lisbon, Salem, Salineville and other towns in the county it will help its case in this city. A Pittsburgh connection would also be a necessity, since Liverpool does a great deal of telephone business with that town.

A GAME TUESDAY.

The Shamrocks-Y. M. C. A. Contest—Other Sporting Notes.

The Shamrocks and Young Men's Christian association teams will battle on the West End ground on Tuesday next in the second game of their series.

Both teams are preparing for the game and a contest royal is expected. It was intended to play on Monday but for good reasons the change was made. Lynch and Finch will be the battery in all probability for the Shamrocks, and Albright and Albright for the Young Men's Christian association. The Tombstones and the clerks are playing ball this afternoon.

The Standard pottery club feel able to whip any pottery club in town and here by challenge the lot. They prefer the team of Knowles new end.

George Hale expects to hear from Trappe today, and possibly the wheelman will be here by tomorrow.

The wheelmen entered for the road race Saturday are nearly all training hard and those who expect to see good time made will hardly be disappointed.

Is the Low Stage of Water in the Ohio River.

It has been almost four months since there was a shipment of coal, and a vast amount of the product taken from the hills of Western Pennsylvania is awaiting to be taken south. According to the latest and best information obtainable, there is little coal loaded below Louisville, and the supply between Natchez and New Orleans is much lower than it has been in years. Looking over past records, one is confronted with the fact that there has not been a year that a rise did not show up in either May, June, July or August, and should the present month pass by without giving the rivermen one, it will go down in river history as a year without a parallel.

JOKED THE OFFICER.

He Answered an Anonymous Postal and Was Fooled.

A member of the police force had an experience the other evening which may teach him that anonymous letter writers are not always the best. In answer to a postal telling him to meet the writer at the loop in the East End where he was promised an interesting story he began to see visions of gold and glory as the reward of vigilance, and he went. For reasons not made known he was accompanied by a friend who waited in a secret place for the interview. How long the officer stayed there no one knows, but there was no interview, and the officer returned to his beat with the knowledge that some people are not above playing with even a policeman.

A BOLD DEED.

How an Artist Was Saved From Death or Injury.

John I. Hodson and Percy Frost are receiving the congratulations of their friends today because of the part they played in a little incident on a street car last night. They were standing on the rear platform when Mr. Frost, in attempting to light a cigar, lost his balance as the car lurched to one side, and his friend jumped to his rescue. In that brief instant visions of a mangled corpse filled the imagination of the spectators, but their fears were soon put to rest. The good right arm of the daring man of medicine clutched the artist in a masterful grasp, and he was dragged back to safety and the platform.

NOBLE WAS IN COURT.

He Took the Disputed Horse Out of the State.

Squire Morley had a case yesterday evening that ended disastrously for the complainant.

Constable Lyon had arrested Noble Withrow on a charge of taking a horse, on which Grant McKinnon had foreclosed a mortgage, out of the state with fraudulent intent.

Squire Morley investigated carefully the facts in the case and dismissed it at the plaintiff's cost. He decided there was nothing against Withrow, as he had obeyed the order of the court to return it. The horse in question is to be sold at auction on Monday afternoon next by Constable Lyon.

IT GOT AWAY.

Officer Whan Lost the Dog He Would Have Killed.

Officer Whan, who was detailed to kill the dog owned by Jack McDonald because it had snapped at a boy, appeared on Fifth street last night leading the animal by a cord to the place of execution. The animal was a small harmless looking canine, and the officer a picture of strength in his navy uniform, and many a smile was thrown toward the pair as they walked along the street. The contrast was telling on the officer when the dog slipped its head from the noose and ran away while the officer wondered why the world seemed so suddenly to have lost its beauty.

THE HORSE DROPPED.

It Was Weary and Wanted to Rest a Little.

When an expressman was driving through the Diamond yesterday evening his horse suddenly manifested a desire for rest, and without any notification other than a toss of its head, quietly laid down. A small crowd quickly gathered, the general belief being death on the part of the animal. It was found to be breathing, however, and the united efforts of several strong men placed the animal on its feet. The horse was apparently unharmed, but some people wondered if it was not a case for the Humane society.

RAISING THE WIRES.

No More Difficulty With the Shade Trees.

The light company today have a force of men at work preparing poles for the elevation of certain wires in the city. The wires were originally placed so low as to pass through shade trees, and it has been determined to settle the matter for all time to come by placing them high in the air. The improvement, while not of vast importance to the general public, will be appreciated by the people who have trees in front of their residences.

A PITIABLE CASE.

A Family of Eight Cared For By the Trustees.

The attention of the poor authorities was last night called to one of the most deserving cases in the history of the present board. A man with a large family, six children, was taken ill some time ago, and gradually what little money he had was consumed. When it was all gone there was nothing left but an appeal for public charity, and this was not done until they were so badly off that they had nothing to eat.

Company E will meet for drill in the rink tonight, and Captain Supple will be on hand. Every member should be present in order that the company be in good shape for the encampment.

So the Electric Line Was Gone Over Again.

SECOND REPORT DUE SATURDAY

When Liverpool People Will Know the Fate of the Scheme Which Has Created So Much Talk—The Pennsylvania Company Fighting.

The survey of the route for the proposed electric line to Lisbon does not suit, and another has been made of a portion of the line. Saturday will probably decide the fate of the scheme.

That much and very little more was learned by a News Review reporter this morning from Attorney A. R. Mackall, one of the projectors of the road. Mr. Mackall expected to know all about the engineer's report on Monday last, but was out of the city and could not be seen until today. The report was complete and showed many things which will not be given to the public at present. There was a part of the proposed route satisfactory and the engineer was instructed to remedy it if possible, and report on Saturday next. Mr. Mackall will go to Pittsburgh today to confer with the other capitalists interested.

The Pennsylvania company is proving a formidable antagonist and will give the syndicate a hard fight when they make a move.

Seaton claims that the bicycle was stolen from his father's house in Washington, Pa. The detective is now looking for a relative who is visiting at the house in Washington, and whose description corresponds with that of the man who disposed of the bicycle."

A COINCIDENCE.

The Man Who Planted a Tree Hauled it Away.

The tree which caused the Huston-Welsh controversy the other day was planted by the man who hauled it away. Long years ago he placed the tree in the ground, and remarked to the people interested enough to see the tree taken away, that he was responsible for its being born and now he was about to officiate at its funeral. Another thing of interest was that he had been a drinking man before that time, but never took a drink after the day the tree was planted.

MISSIONS ATTACKED.

Another Chinese Insult Against England and America.

THE VEGETARIANS 12,000 STRONG.

They Are Well Armed and Organized and Able to Withstand the Chinese Troops. An American Missionary Describes the Massacre—Killed Number Nine.

HONGKONG, Aug. 8.—The British and American missions at Fat Shan, near Canton, have been attacked by a large and infuriated mob. The hospitals were demolished. The missionaries fled to Sha Men, other remained. A Chinese gunboat has been dispatched to quell the riot.

It is reported that all the missions at Kwang Lung will soon be destroyed and the missionaries driven to the treaty ports. The Vegetarians are 12,000 strong and well armed and organized and able to withstand the Chinese troops.

A Foo-Chow special says: Dr. Gregory, an American missionary, who escaped from Ku-Cheng, gives the following account of the massacre there: "At 12:30 p. m., on Thursday, Aug. 1, a native Christian rushed into my study, saying that several of the foreign ladies at Hwasang, a mountain resort about 12 miles from the city of Ku-Cheng, had been killed that morning, and that two houses had been burned. Fifteen minutes later a note from Mr. Phillips confirmed this."

"He wrote that five ladies were dead, the Stewards were missing and four persons were seriously wounded. He expressed the hope that I was then on my way to Hwasang. I immediately went to the Yamen, where hundreds of excited natives had already gathered, and requested the district magistrate, Wang, to send some soldiers at once to Hwasang to protect those still living. In half an hour the magistrate went to Hwasang under an escort of about 60 soldiers. I was delayed in leaving Ku-Cheng, owing to the fact that the coolies refused to carry chairs. On my arrival I set to work to make the injured as comfortable as possible."

"At 4 p. m. I left Ku-Cheng city under an escort of 13 soldiers, arriving at Hwasang at 8 p. m., to find that nine adults, all British subjects, had been murdered, and that all those still alive at Hwasang—eight only—had been more or less severely wounded."

Dr. Gregory then described the wounds received with medical precision, giving names, etc., just as published in these dispatches. He said, however, that there had been no post mortem mutilation, as had previously been stated. The secret society known as Vegetarians did the rioting.

THEY LIKE THE COLUMBIA.

The French Government Orders Two Duplicates of Our Famous Fast Cruiser.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—News has just reached the navy department that the French government has shown its appreciation of the fine capabilities of the fleet cruiser Columbia, by ordering the immediate construction of two vessels as nearly a duplicate of the famous American flyer as they can be made in the absence of our exact plans.

They are to be known as "croiseurs rapides," or pirate cruisers, and notwithstanding the criticisms that have been passed upon the Columbia because of her light battery, these French cruisers will have still smaller caliber guns, the largest being but 6.5 inches, as against 8-inch guns for the Columbia.

NEGROES BUYING GUNS.

Want to Avenge Their Brethren at Spring Valley, Ills.

BRIEF TRUCE AT THAT POINT.

Minors Passed Resolutions For Equal Rights to All When Albiged's Representative Is There—Trouble Likely If Negroes Try to Work.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—The police have received information which leads them to believe that the colored men of this city have perfected an organization, and are arming with the intention of attacking the Italian miners at Spring Valley. The information came from a number of pawnbrokers, who stated that they had been approached during the day by colored men who were anxious to purchase Winchester rifles. In several instances purchases were made, but as a general thing the pawnbrokers did not have enough of the rifles to make a deal with the colored men. One of the would-be purchasers said when asked what he wanted to do with a number of rifles, "Oh, we will show the dagoes what we want with them."

A Spring Valley special says: State troops, for the present at least, will not be ordered to this turbulent town. Peace has been declared. This was brought about through the efforts of Colonel Hugh E. Bayle, assistant adjutant general, sent here by Governor Altgeld.

Colonel Bayle was informed by Sheriff Clark, Superintendent Dalzell and other citizens, miners and public officers, that no one had as yet been killed. All admitted, however, that 100 citizens, all colored, had been driven from their homes by a mob of Italians, Poles, Bavarians and Hungarian miners. Many shots were fired and some of the colored miners were wounded and brutally beaten. These negroes, men, women and children, had been assaulted and ruthlessly driven from their homes and forced to go to Seatonville. As to this outrage, all were agreed; but that anyone had been killed, or fatally wounded, both coal company officials and the miners all denied. Colonel Bayle was then informed that miners were to hold a mass meeting in the public square. At this meeting resolutions were adopted, declaring for equal rights to all regardless of color.

When the meeting adjourned, those who had been instrumental in calling it met at the Spring Valley hotel with Colonel Bayle, the county officials and representatives of the coal company. Most of the questions were proposed by James O'Connor, president of the State Miners' union. It was during this questioning it developed that Manager Lazel would willingly take back all miners who had not work, save those who had committed crimes. Dalzell expressed this as a man who had been driven from the mine were anxious to come back. They had sent word to this effect.

"I replied," he continued, "that if they wanted to come back they could do so. Under the resolutions was that no right."

"It was," said O'Connor, "only you must not hold us all responsible if some of them should be stabbed in the back."

Notwithstanding the miners' resolutions it is generally believed that if the negroes return to work there will be trouble.

Stebenville has a street sweeper that the Gazette wants sold to Liverpool. Perhaps they bought a cheap sweeper down there, or didn't know how to use it after they got it.

Two dogs were shot in the East End yesterday. One had bitten a man and the other was acting in a suspicious manner. The poor canine, friendless and homeless, has a hard time of it these days.

Trustee Joseph Beardmore was 64 years old yesterday, and as he walked about the street, with face beaming and head erect, his friends who knew nothing about the event, wondered at his gay and youthful appearance.

The three East End churches and two Sunday schools from neighboring towns are picnicking at Columbian park today. The park is crowded, and many persons from the city proper are aiding their friends in properly celebrating the occasion.

The Goodwin ball club will have an opportunity to show that it can hold the laurels it won on Thursday, the old end boys challenging them for a game. This time each club will put up $25, and the contest promises to be one of beauty and fun.

The trolley wire was down at Riley's orchard this morning and on the Walker's hill, but with that expert ability for which they are rapidly becoming noted, the repair crew used Nancy Hanks and a little wire to have the line in working order in short time.

"This sweeper controversy can end right here," said a well known business man to a reporter. "If the sweeper is not what we want council can ship it away, and get another. If it does the work it is worth the money. In heaven's name don't let us have warfare now. It's too hot."

Officer Whan ran against a circumstance yesterday that caused him no end of trouble. He was interested in the fight near the brewery, and sought to do some detective work, but the people who knew anything about it refused to give information and he was compelled to return to city hall without the evidence he so earnestly sought.

Proprietor Stewart at the Hotel Grand has been so often victimized by unscrupulous guests with notes and drafts which needed endorsement that he has ceased to oblige them, and in order that he will not be called upon to refuse them has posted a pretty sign in the office, where it can be seen, announcing the death of the practice as far as he is concerned.

Arthur Seever, a cooper employed by the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company, was boxing in a playful manner with one of his friends when he slipped and fell, his arm striking the sharp edge of an adz with sufficient force to make a nasty wound. An artery was missed by little more than a hair's breadth, and the wound was so dangerous that a physician was called to dress it.

That agonizing stillness so well known at city hall these warm summer days pervaded every nook and corner of the rickety old building today. People gazed in wonder as they passed, and a stranger would have thought it the deserted mansion of some great king or potentate, or yet, perhaps, the tomb of an honored resident, so quiet was the place, and yet so magnificent in its mighty proportions.

A Wellsville man, who neglected to leave his name at city hall, was here yesterday looking for the wife of his home who went out to buy groceries the other day, but neglected to return. He said a Liverpool man living in the rickety old Ainsley building on Washington street had enticed her from home and he wanted the man as well as the woman. A search of the place was made, but the bad man with a handsome face could not be found.

The private picnic at Columbian park last evening was an enjoyable occasion, 35 couples of society people spending a few hours delightfully at the pleasant resort. It was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Keplinger, of New Philadelphia, who are visiting the Misses Shriver, Allegheny, guests at the residence of Harry Keffer, and Miss Brown, who is being entertained by Mrs. Bolton on Jackson street.

Dancing was the amusement, and the merry crowd were brought to the city at midnight by a special car on the street railway. The arrangements were perfect and the outing a complete success.

AT CAMP GREENLAND

A Day Among the Pennsylvania
National Guard.

And Finds Time to Win Praise on the Field—The Governor's Review—Scenes
and Sounds Among the Rank and File.
Fakirs Who Are Making Fortunes and
Some Who Make Mistakes—The Spot
Where 3,000 Soldiers Dwell.

CAMP W. W. GREENLAND,
GLENCARIN, PA., AUG. 6.

This beautiful spot on the Allegheny Valley railroad is a second white city. Acres are covered with the pure white canvas of the tents of
the National Guard of Pennsylvania.
Here the bugle call awakens the
thousands of soldiers from their slumbers each morning and the place that was a few moments before quiet
swarms with the boys in blue. Then
the colors are placed in position in front of the tents of the colonels
commanding six regiments of soldiers, and another day of the encampment is
begun.

Your correspondent arrived in Glen-carin at 10:30 last night, and through the courtesy of officers aboard the train was directed to the quarters of Captain Harry Palmer, the color sergeant of the Tenth regiment. After resorting to every known means of arousing the captain from his slumbers, and while considering the idea of having the battery fire a shot from
one of their cannon, the agonizing tones of "Sweet Marie" came from a tent several military squares distant.
It awakened even the sleepers under
the rails of the side track, and the
captain arose and greeted his visitor
with as much cordiality as though he had been a delinquent subscriber come
to pay his bill. After a foraging expedition enough bedding was secured
from the unconscious soldiers to make
a comfortable couch, and it was 6
o'clock the next morning before your correspondent saw much of camp life
as the Pennsylvania guard have it.

On our way to breakfast we met Colonel Hawkins, of the Tenth, who had just come from the tonorial tent, and, despite his protest against having strangers made his acquaintance
while he was in negligee attire, I had
a pleasant chat with the commander.
After breakfast in the regimental
mess tent, a meal which showed that
the guardsmen know how to live and
are putting that knowledge to good
use, the companies detailed for guard
mount went on duty. Field drill followed, but was cut short by a downpour of rain, and the soldiers made
for shelter at a speed somewhere between the regular double quick and a streak of greased lightning. The shower was soon over, but drill was not resumed, and until noon the visitor to camp had plenty of time to spend a fortune among the fakirs, testing his strength of muscle, or of "windage," bearing
the phonograph, learning his weight, securing tin types of himself or
mother-in-law, pitching rings at deceptive canes or throwing base balls at
the darkey's wooden covered skull.
These and many more devices formed
a veritable midway, and the only nickel that passed them by was of the counterfeit variety.

Just what sort of grudge the owners
of these stands had against Governor Hastings could not be learned, but
they had located about his tent and
he who wanted to see the governor had
to run the gauntlet. After dinner promiscuous drilling occupied the
time until 4 o'clock when there was an unusual stir in camp and the shining
of buckles and buttons was evidence that it was not mere drill looked to disturb the soldiers. The bustle was
for the great event of the day, the review of the entire brigade. These who never before witnessed such an affair looked on in open mouthed wonder, while those better acquainted with military life enjoyed the scene
with an enjoyment arising only from
a pride in the men who protect the
nation, and the perception that they were drilling as soldiers who love their
work should drill. As they marched
to the field it became apparent that there were a few guardsmen on the ground. In fact there were between 3,000 and 4,000 there, being the 48 companies of the six regiments of the Second brigade and Battery B and the Sheridan troop, cavalry. Once the regiments had taken their respective
positions Governor Hastings and Brigadier General Wyllie dashed across
the field, the governor's splendid build
and superb horsemanship making him
the admired of the hundreds of spectators. None the less admired was Adjutant Wyllie as he kept close by the governor's side and his trained
eye observed his men with satisfaction. The cavalrymen rode by and the spectators generally remarked
that they looked pretty. The crowd was principally on the left and had no idea of what was coming. Suddenly the command "by the left flank, march!" was heard and the Sheridan
men wheeled their horses and pressed
the crowd back on the hill. As the regiments passed the crowd the Tenth

came first by reason of Colonel Hawkins being the oldest in the service,
and as this regiment passed Governor Hastings and General Wyllie the governor gave a nod of approval and a few
complimentary words which would have made the boys feel like cheering
had they heard them. The Tenth
was generally conceded the best appearing on the field.

A base ball game was one of the
features of the afternoon, and to insure perfect order or perhaps because
he was better prepared in case of accident (?) the chaplain of the Tenth
was chosen umpire. Incidentally he scored and assumed the management of both nines. It was merely a practice game among the boys who were preparing to annihilate the team
from the Eighteenth.

Just how the rainmaker got into
camp, and why he imagined himself a picket with the "two hours on and four off" is a mystery, but he performed his duty from morn till night without a break.

During the dry seasons I had a chance to see the Pennsylvania
private as he is in camp and found him a very jovial fellow. As I passed one tent I heard a blue coat sing out
to a comrade in a neighboring tent
"Ho, Bill. Do you see any flies on us?
We 'swiped' two blankets and two
pillows and three candles last night.
Where raw recruits but were learnin'
—don't you think?" Bill evidently
did think for he smiled and requested
that the learners let him know whenever they wanted to take the second lesson as he desired to stock up.

Across the track a Hebrew gentleman had endeavored to raise prices on his wares. He was surrounded by a small army in five minutes and a guard with bayonets fixed escorted him out of camp. Such is but a daily occurrence here. Pitching quilts, playing ball, foot racing, bathing and having teeth pulled are the favorite amusements of the soldiers during leisure hours.

Dress parade was the last military
exercise I saw in camp before leaving for home, and it was immediately followed by rain. At supper I met Colonel Streator, the unjustly cen-
sured officer who was connected with
the case of Private Iams. Colonel Streator is a man of pleasing address,
popular among the regiment, and although feeling quite ill, he talked earnestly of military work. He has a deep regard for the soldiers of the Tenth, who would defend the gallant
Colonel Hawkins with their lives if it
ever became necessary, and is highly pleased with the success of this encampment. Many other officers I was pleased to meet during the day and
found them just what they are reputed—soldiers who take pride in making a stranger feel at home.

More hospitable people than Colonel Hawkins and the officers of the Tenth
would be hard to find. One day in camp makes the visitor long for a month of it and no one ever regrets
the time spent there.

Before closing I must remember
"Uncle Jeff" whose skill is mainly responsible for the strength used in writing this letter. For 10 years he has been chief cook for the Tenth
regiment and he furnishes the best cooked rations in the brigade. The sick soldier is never waiting for delicacies when "Uncle Jeff" hears of him,
and he produces, as if by magic, some
dish that seldom fails to coax the
latent appetite. His able assistants are nimble and obliging. Unfortunately I could not learn "Uncle Jeff's"
last name as in the half score years of
his efficient service the boys have grown so accustomed to using the title I have applied that they have forgotten the other half.

Maclaren's Wonderful Cricket.

Wonderful batting was recently performed in England by the Lancashire elevens and young A. C. Maclaren, their crack batsman. Playing against Somersetshire
at Taunton, they amassed the enormous
total of 801, and Maclaren contributed from his own bat a score of 424. His innings beat the previous best, of W. G.
Grace, 314, for a first class match, and the Lancashire total easily surpassed the record for a county match obtained by Notts against Sussex this year, when they scored 726.

Doctors as Athletes.

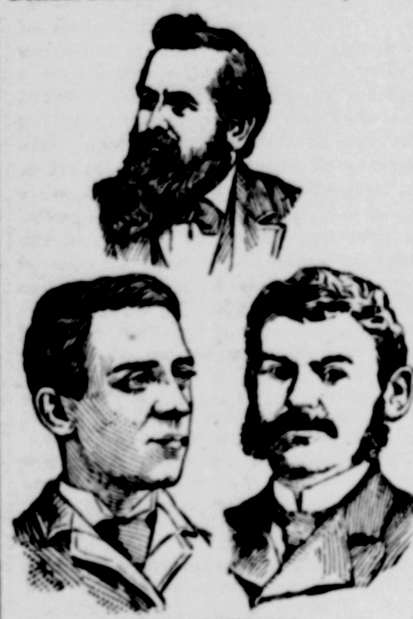

The doctors show up well in athletics.
Dr. Grace is the champion cricket player in England and therefore of the world.
Dr. Pin of Ireland has beaten all the tennis experts of Great Britain and America, except Clarence Hobart and Champion R.
D. Wrenn. Dr. Hammond of New York is champion of the United States at foil and broadswords.

CHESS KINGS IN CONGRESS.

Steinitz, Pillsbury and Albin America's Representatives at Hastings.

The greatest chess tournament in the history of the sport is now in progress at Hastings, England, under the auspices of the Hastings and St. Leonards Chess clubs.
All the greatest players living are present,
and 22 of them are battling for supremacy
in the royal game. So great was the interest in the tournament that 38 European
and American chess masters sent in their entries, but the committee was obliged to limit the number to 22. The United States, Canada, England, France, Italy, Austria,
Germany and Russia are all represented
by their best players.

The big four of the tournament are Emanuel Lasker, the champion of the world, representing England; ex-Champion William Steinitz, representing America; Dr.
Siebert Tarrasch, the German champion,
and Tschigorin, the champion of Russia.
Besides Steinitz the American competitors

are Pillsbury of Boston and Albin of New York. Canada is represented by Pollock,
England by Bird, Blackburne, Burn, Guns-
berg, Lasker, Mason, Teichmann and Tins-
ley; France by Janowski, Italy by Vergani, Austria by Maroo and Schlechter, Germany by Bardeleben, Mieses, Tarrasch and Walbrodt, and Russia by Tschigorin and Schiffers. In the opinion of the New York Sun there are only three living men whose
presence in the ring would have been desirable—namely, the Austrian, Weiss; the Pole, Winawer, and the German, Lipke.

The young Bostonian, Pillsbury, has never before met any of the European masters
in serious match play, and it is principally to Steinitz that the public will look with more than usual curiosity. The veteran
has never as yet crossed swords with Teich-
mann, Tinsley, Burn, Janowski, Vergani, Maroo, Pollock, Schlechter, Bardeleben, Mieses, Tarrasch, Walbrodt and Schiffers.
He has played with neither Bird, Black-
burne nor Mason since 1883, he has not
met either Gunsberg or Tschigorin over
the board for four or five years, while a meeting between the two claimants for the championship title, Lasker and Steinitz,
is alone worth the trouble of having arranged the tournament. Then there is Lasker, who will have to play against Tar-
rasch, Tschigorin, Schiffers and Walbrodt,
not to speak of the lesser lights whom he has never before encountered in match
playing.

It has been a matter of great surprise all over the world that Tarrasch succeeded in winning the last four European international tournaments. True, the contestants
in these tournaments were not as strong
as they will be at Hastings, but it was a miraculous performance, and there are many people who already look upon Tar-
rasch as the winner of the Hastings congress. However, there are Steinitz, Lasker
and Tschigorin, three men the German champion Tarrasch did not meet at either Manchester, Breslau, Dresden or Leipzig.
These three men will probably fight for
the honor of being first at the end of the tournament, in which case the finest talent in the world will battle over the board.

A FOUR-YEAR-OLD SCORCHER.

Bicyclist Lewis Benner, the Smallest Racing Cyclist on the Circuit.

Lewis D. B. Benner, aged 4 years, and John J. Benner, aged 6 years, the sons of L. C. Benner of Philadelphia, are the youngest racers on the bicycle track in this country.

They go about to the big meetings on
the national racing circuit and give exhibition races that always prove very popular with the spectators.

At the Asbury Park meeting they competed twice in races for a third of a mile, making the time in 1:10. The younger rider had a 65 yard handicap and came over the tape about 15 feet in the lead. The 4-year-old's wheel weighs nine pounds, and the boy himself does not weigh over 30.

They have been riding only this summer,
and the speed they make is considered remarkably good. In the fullness of time it is believed they may develop into the Zimmermans, Johnsons or Sangers of the future.

A Charming Actress' Opportunity.

Ida Jeffreys-Goodfriend's versatility will
be strongly tested in the various roles
which she will play next season in the company headed by Courtenay Thorpe. Besides
Mrs. Alving in "Ghosts," she will play a strong emotional role in "The Story of a Sin" and a charming light comedy part in "Reading a Tragedy." The last named play was written by Lord Dunsany for the late Selma Dolara and was played by her with marked success at a benefit performance some years ago, since which time it has not been presented on any stage.

The Bill Nye-Paul Potter Play.

"A Stag Party" is the name of the comedy which Paul Potter and Bill Nye are writing. Two acts of the play are already finished, and the authors expect to have
put the last touches to their manuscript
before Mr. Potter leaves for England, where he goes to superintend the production of "Tribby" by Beerbohm Tree.
